2400/2400W: Principles of Human Development\textsuperscript{a,c}
Understand what is needed for people to develop optimally by studying learning, social interaction, and growth from birth to later life.

3050: Child Development: Birth to 3\textsuperscript{c}
Learn about the rapid changes in infants’ and toddlers’ development in language, physical growth, social-emotional awareness, sensory/motor skills, and the influence of environments.

3150W: Child Development: Ages 4-8\textsuperscript{c}
Understand the physical, cognitive, social/emotional, and personality growth during the early childhood years; focus on both current research/theory and historical approaches to examining this period.

3430: Adolescence & Young Adulthood\textsuperscript{b,c}
Learn how to be a supportive resource for teens by focusing on the important physical, cognitive, and social developmental changes during the 12-24 age range.

3440: Adulthood & Aging\textsuperscript{a,c}
To promote successful aging, learn about the biological, cognitive, psychological, social, and relational changes experienced across adulthood and later life.

3450: Health, Safety, & Nutrition
Support young children’s wellness and development in preschool settings. Use evidence and understand policy and best-practices for promoting a variety of nutrition, health, and safety issues.

\textsuperscript{a} Writing Intensive
\textsuperscript{b} meets MU Social and/or Behavioral course requirements
\textsuperscript{c} course counts toward MU Multicultural Certificate
\textsuperscript{c} course counts toward MU HDFS Minor

LEARN MORE  hdfs.missouri.edu