

Human Development and Family Science

Undergraduate Minor

Transform your major by understanding context.

This minor prepares you to understand and apply the science of individual development and interpersonal interactions to any other field of study.

Learn the science of growth and relationships

Use research and theory to understand life experiences as we age and interact within social contexts

Complement another degree

Gain specialized knowledge about development and relationships that you can apply in other majors and/or careers

Build minor to suit your interests

Choosing two elective courses gives you flexibility to focus on content and skills that support your goals

 Human Development and Family Science
University of Missouri

Multiple Course Formats

In-person, online, and/or self-paced

15 credit hours

Three required courses | Two electives

Learn more

→ mizzou.us/hdfs-minor

Kelly Warzinik, MS
573-882-3521
Warzinik@missouri.edu